

KSP No.209 – D.K.T. Yomal

D.K.T. Yomal is a significant student in our scholarship programme. He commenced in 2009 to the programme. Now he is a doctor in Matara General Hospital. He is a member of a harvest of the programme.

Yomal's house is very close to the temple. Withing 5 minute we reached his home. He has father, mother and a younger brother.

From the childhood, he was very clever and capable student. And also, very obedient son to his family and the temple. From O/L exam he got 9As and A/L exam he got 3As. After that he entered Colombo university for medical science. After the hard working 5 years last day he got MBBS degree and sworn as a doctor.

Before his graduation after completing the final MBBS exam he worked with the consultant vitreo retinal surgeon as a research assistance at the National eye hospital. He told me it was very special experience.

“The sense of relief and happiness I got from watching my parent’s smile on the graduation day is really something and without them I would never achieve it. In reality they sacrificed same as me or more to achieve my goal”

It was Yomal’s proud words of his victory. It was memorable day to him, because it is a major milestone in his life.

For his Internship he got the chance to choose to in his hometown. Right now, he is working in a surgery ward for 06 months. Then, he gets to work in a medicine ward.

Yomal told me right now his goal is to complete his internship without any problems and hopefully he will be able to study further in ophthalmology field int the future.

When I talked with Yomal he thanked to his god parents many times.at last he told me, one day he will be able to help another as the members of organization did and became a better person.
